MEDICINAL

THE CAMEL'S HEAD.

"Where the camel's head goes his body follows," says an Oriental proverb. It's the same way with disease. A small opening will give it an entrance and when disease once has a place in the body a large number of ills may follow it.

The opening for disease is often found in a "weak" stomach. When the stomach is "weak" the body also becomes weakened by lack of nutrition, and disease attacks the heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the weak stomach strong. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and so enables the body to resist or throw off other diseases.

Men and women who are sick are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free, and so obtain without charge the opinion of a specialist on their ailments. All correspondence strictly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"For the past two years I have been a very sick woman," writes Mrs. Chesley, of 105 Woodland Ave., Cleveland, Ohio. "I tried medicines from doctors and to no avail. At last I decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When I started I was all run-down and had a very unpleasant taste in my mouth. Was choked up, and at times it was very hard for me to breathe. I had severe headaches and cutting pains in my knee joint. Was so weak I could not attend to my work nor walk up or down stairs without the assistance of my brother or some friend. I am now taking the fourth bottle, and am happy to say I feel like myself again. I can go up and down stairs and perform my duties as well as any one. Everything seems to be brighter, and I can assure you that life is worth living."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing just as good for dyspepsia or debility.

Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

KILLED HIS BROTHERS.

Worked into a frenzy as a result of an altercation with one of his brothers, Benjamin Franklin Weissinger, living on a farm several miles from Potomac, Pa., yesterday afternoon shot and killed his two brothers, attempted to kill his sister and a sister-in-law, and held a large posse of policemen at bay for nine hours before he was captured.

The tragedy occurred on the farm of the father of the men. The dead men are Louis Weissinger, aged twenty-seven years, single, and Frederick, aged twenty-five, who leaves a widow. The fratricide is forty-five years old.

Benjamin and Frederick had a quarrel early in the afternoon about the cleaning of a horse. During the altercation Benjamin fired four shots at Frederick without any of them taking effect.

Frederick fled to the attic of the farm house, and was followed into the house by the enraged brother. The latter secured a Winchester repeating rifle, and as he was leaving the house he encountered another brother, Louis, at the kitchen door. Without a word of warning, Benjamin fired at Louis, the bullet striking him in the side. The victim fell unconscious, and died in half an hour without uttering a word.

The murderer then walked down a path and caught a glimpse of Frederick, who was looking out of the attic window. Benjamin quickly raised his rifle and fired. The bullet entered Frederick's cheek and penetrated the brain. He fell dead against the window sill. His wife, who had gone to the attic with him, attempted to drag the body into the room. She succeeded in this, but not before Benjamin had fired several shots at her without effect. The murderer's attention was then attracted to his sister Mary, who had come out of the house to persuade him from doing any more shooting. She persuaded so strongly that he turned the rifle upon her and fired twice, but his aim was bad. The young woman escaped into the house.

Having realized what he had done and fearing arrest, Benjamin decided to barricade himself in the barn. He went into the house, secured a shotgun, several revolvers and ammunition, and then took up his position in the barn. The women of the house notified neighbors, who, in turn, summoned police assistance. Every attempt the authorities made to approach the barn was met with several shots from Weissinger, and reinforcements were sent for. Toward evening, after a parley with the murderer, he permitted David Wertz and Samuel Lovett, farm hands, to enter the barn and feed the horses and cattle. Weissinger in the meantime kept the men covered with his firearms.

When Sheriff Smith appeared on the scene a ruse was planned to capture the man. Another parley was held with the murderer and he agreed to let the two farm hands bring him, his supper. The men were instructed to watch their opportunity, seize him by the arms and shout, which would be the signal for the deputies to rush in. This they did and a terrible struggle took place. The murderer is a powerful man, but the force of numbers was too much for him, and he was tied hand and foot before he could further use his weapons. Weissinger is believed to be insane. His mind is said to have been failing for some time. He had nothing to say regarding the tragedy except that he exclaimed: "I am bewitched."

KILLED BY A CIVILIAN.—J. Carrara, an officer of the Twentieth Mexican Battalion, lies dead as the result of a duel between himself and Alberto Mungia, a Guaymas merchant. The affair took place in the outskirts of Guaymas. The men met by appointment at a spot surrounded by trees and unoccupied houses. They had previously engaged in a fight in a drinking place in the center of the city, when Mungia had attempted to stab his victim. He failed in this, as bystanders separated the men, but Mungia immediately challenged Carrara to a duel with swords. The latter accepted and the men and their seconds were ready at the appointed time on the spot selected. Mungia thrust his sword through Carrara's breast at the first onslaught, instantly killing his opponent. Mungia was arrested. The cause of the feud between the men is not definitely known by the authorities, but those who witnessed the fight between them in a cafe say the trouble there arose over a woman. Carrara had taken part in several skirmishes with Yaqui rebels. His fame as a soldier had preceded him to Guaymas, so that his death was a shock in civilian as well as in military circles. Although a brave soldier, he was not skilful in handling a sword, and his more powerful opponent easily rushed him off his feet, refusing to spare his victim when he saw an opportunity to run him through.

whom sinners call "Holy Rollers," have burned dogs and cats on sacrificial fires and have consigned furniture, carpets, clothing and many other articles of value to the flames. The scene of the devotion is the home of O. V. Hart, ex-chairman of the republican county committee. There the sidewalk about the premises were torn up and burned and flowers, shrubbery and fruit trees dug up and destroyed. The sect claim to have direct communication with the Almighty at all times, and they say he directs them what to destroy and what to preserve. On Saturday two of the high priests of the sect were tried before the county judge for insanity, but were released. During their religious services members roll about the floor in paroxysms of frenzy.

What to Do Until the Doctor Arrives.
"One of my children was taken with cramp colic and suffered severely," says S. B. Elze, of Monett, Mo. "I telephoned for a doctor, then gave a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and a few minutes later a second dose. Before the doctor came the child was relieved."
